

This is a detailed black and white map of the Corinth, Tennessee area. The map shows the Tennessee River flowing through the region, with several towns and settlements marked. Key locations include Bolivar, Middleburg, Corinth, and Memphis. The map also depicts various railroads, such as the Memphis & Charleston R.R. and the Nashville & Chattanooga R.R. Other features include the Wolf River, the Tennessee River, and the Chickasaw River. A scale bar at the bottom indicates distances in statute miles, ranging from 0 to 20. The map is credited to G. Woodworth Colton, N.Y.

south side of Hatchie River, and driving them back across that stream. Jackson, Tenn., at which General Grant has his headquarters, and from which our news comes, is about thirty miles north of Bolívar.

FROM GEN. SIGEL'S DIVISION.

CONTINUING SCOUTING OPERATIONS.

REPORTED RETREAT TO RICHMOND.

Special Dispatch to The N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 6, 1862.

Gen. Sigel's scouts, just returned from a thoroughfare Gap, report no enemy in sight this side of the mountains. They further learned that the enemy's main force was at Winchester. The Rebel wagon trains had all been sent to Staunton, and their cattle—over 2,000 head—to Mt. Jackson. Longstreet's column was reported to have commenced retreating to Richmond. This last statement is doubted at Sigel's headquarters. These scouts brought in two conscripts, and a man formerly belonging to Gen. King's division, who had been pressed into the Rebel service, and who left the enemy while at Strasburg. These men report that the conscription act is regarded as very oppressive, and in some portions of the South every possible means is used to escape its workings. They were first captured by the Rebels while endeavoring to escape to our lines, and were sent to Richmond and incarcerated there. Scouts from Gainesville found nothing on the way. A party sent out to look after locomotives and cars, at or near Bristol, reported that the train had been removed to the Rappahannock, and as soon as the bridge should be finished would undoubtedly be taken away.

INTERESTING FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

Negroes Seized by the Rebels and carried into Virginia to Work on Fortifications—Council of Leading Men on the President's Proclamation—Union War Meetings.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 5, 1862.

The steamboat Metamora arrived this morning at Fortress Monroe from Aiken's Landing.

Advices have been received, dated Newbern, N. C., Oct. 3, 9 a. m.

The United States transport steamer Baltimore leaves Beaufort this morning via Fortress Monroe, for Baltimore.

All the able bodied negroes in Eastern North Carolina are now being seized by the Rebel Secretary of War, and carried into Virginia to work on fortifications.

Gov. Vance has called a council of the leading men of this State, for the purpose of taking President Lincoln's recent proclamation into consideration.

Union war meetings are being held daily in the adjoining counties, for the purpose of filling up the loyal North Carolina regiments, which are addressed by the Hon. C. H. Foster, and others, who thus far have met with great success. Six new companies for the famous 1st North Carolina have been sworn in, the brave Col. Potter commanding, who has recovered from his wounds received in the recent attack on Washington, (N. C.) in which engagement his regiment carried off the palm.

On Wednesday last nine of our pickets took a rifle pit and repulsed fifty Rebels near Bachelor's Creek, some fifteen miles from Newbern.

The Unionists in Camden County have petitioned President Lincoln for permission to drive all the Rebel families out of the county. If granted, they promise two loyal regiments for the Union, half of which are already raised—one of cavalry and one of infantry.

Recruits for the North Carolina Union regiments are rapidly pouring in since the heroic conduct of the 1st in the engagement at Washington.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 5, 1862.

Several transports have gone up James River with about 1,900 Rebel prisoners, and are expected to bring back about that number of our released Union prisoners. They are expected here to-morrow.

—◆—

THE WAR IN MISSOURI.

Rebels—Desperate Fighting to Get Out —Gallantry of a Kansas Company—The

A Battle Expected at Sarcosie—Texas

Advices received from Gen. Schofield state that with a powerful army he was on Saturday at Sar-

The Draft Not to Take Place on the Tenth.
 Against Monday, Oct. 5, 1914.

on Friday next, is without authority. It cannot be made on that day, as the enrollment is not complete.

WEST POINT, Monday, Oct. 6, 1932.

the shot going through and completely changing ends with the whole target, weighing 4,500 pounds.

The inventor fired some shells for range with good effect, the whole being a complete success.